

UPCOMING STR LEADERSHIP NOMINATIONS

STR EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE & ASSISTANT PROGRAM CHAIR BALLOTS

Samina Karim

Northeastern University
Past Division Chair

Please help us identify the future leadership of STR! The STR Executive Committee, and the 5-year officer term commencing with the position of Assistant Program Chair, are critical for ensuring the continued vibrancy of the STR Division. Please consider these opportunities to serve the Division, and nominate in January qualified members to stand for election by the whole STR membership.

Executive Committee: The twelve Executive Committee (EC) members assist officers and take leadership and liaison roles in various committees and activities of the Division. Together with the officers, the EC members help govern the Division and are essential for maintaining and updating Division policies. EC members participate in several meetings throughout the year. All nominated members in good standing will be considered for the ballot. Any member who receives nominations from at least 10 other STR members in good standing will be automatically included on the ballot, but a single nomination suffices for a member to be considered for the ballot by the current EC. The Division membership will elect six new Executive Committee members, each serving a two year term.

Assistant Program Chair: The Division membership will elect the Assistant Program Chair. This person will serve a five year term, serving as Assistant Program Chair (also referred to as the PDW Chair), then Program Chair, then Division Chair Elect, then Division Chair, then Past Division Chair. This position leads to the highest levels of responsibility over all activities of the Division. Nominees for Assistant Program Chair must have served previously on the STR Executive Committee (including its BPS and BPP predecessors).

Nomination Guidelines: Nominees may stand for election provided they: (1) are members in good standing of the STR Division, (2) are nominated by other STR members as indicated above, (3) meet the requirements of the position (see above), and (4) agree to run for the position. The Spring 2021 ballot will include a subset of nominations selected by the current Executive Committee.

Please nominate candidates on the Academy of Management nomination website, which will be available online in mid-January 2021 and will remain open for approximately one month. The AOM staff will send a mass email notification to all active members of the Academy, notifying that the nomination website is open and providing a link and login information.

Thank you for your involvement in identifying our division leaders. If you have any questions or comments, please contact Samina Karim (Past Division Chair) at samina@northeastern.edu.

CALLS FOR STR SPECIALIZED COMMITTEE MEMBERS

2020 GLOBAL REPRESENTATIVES, MEMBERSHIP ENGAGEMENT, RESEARCH AND TEACHING COMMITTEES

Samina Karim

Northeastern University

Past Division Chair

Please help us identify dedicated members of STR to serve on the specialized committees of the Division's leadership! These members play an essential role in organizing some of our Division's most important events at the annual conference and beyond. Please consider these opportunities to serve the Division and nominate qualified members who will stand for selection by the Executive Committee. Self-nominations are welcome for these committees.

Global Representatives Committee: STR has six Global Representatives for Africa, Asia, Central America, Europe, Oceania, and South America. The Global Representatives serve to make the Academy of Management accessible to scholars from all regions of the world, bringing news from their region to the whole STR membership, and facilitating STR activities in their local communities. Specifically, the Global Representatives organize a yearly PDW for participants from regions that are under-represented at the annual conference, and liaise with panelists including active research scholars and journal editors. Further, Global Representatives promote and support the Division's interests at regional meetings held in their respective area of the world, and may lead workshop initiatives in their regions that are of benefit to Division (and potential Division) members. Global Representatives are based at institutions in the region they represent and serve terms of three years. For 2021, STR is specifically looking for a new Global Representative for Central America and another representative for South America.

Membership Engagement Committee (MEC): The nine MEC members organize various social activities and social-academic events during the annual conference and throughout the year. This committee is especially well suited for those with creative ideas and a desire to promote outreach and inclusion! We seek MEC members who are representative of our membership – with diversity in geographic region, gender, research and teaching interests – all the better to understand and serve the needs of the Division's members. We will appoint three new MEC members, each serving a three year term.

Research Committee (RC): The twenty-four Research Committee members are primarily tasked with selecting the finalists and winners for the best conference papers and best dissertations. The RC may also be called upon to advise about the direction of the field and how to serve members' research needs. Members of the Research Committee should be at the forefront of research while possessing sufficient academic maturity, including reviewing and editorial experience, to assess diverse streams of research. We will appoint twelve new RC members, each serving a two year term.

Teaching Committee (TC): The six Teaching Committee members serve the teaching and teacher education needs of the Division's membership. Teaching committee members organize the annual STR Junior Faculty Teaching Consortium and two PDWs at the annual conference. They may also be involved with non-conference initiatives such as gathering online resources or facilitating webinars. Members of the research committee should be proven and creative teachers who are committed to supporting other STR scholars in the pursuit of teaching excellence and innovation. We will appoint three new TC members, each serving two year terms.

Nomination Guidelines: Please nominate candidates for the four specialized committees on the Academy of Management nomination website, which will be available online in mid-January 2021 and will remain open for approximately one month. Self-nominations are welcome. The AOM staff will send a mass email notification to all active members of the Academy, notifying that the nomination website is open and providing a link and login information. The Executive Committee will select members of specialized committees from among the respective nominees.

Thank you for your involvement in identifying those dedicated to STR. If you have any questions or comments, please contact Samina Karim (Past Division Chair) at samina@northeastern.edu.
